The Company is a low-cost airline, using its fleet of Boeing 737 aircraft. Revenues from this business are specified in the table above. Passenger revenue consists of revenue generated from sales of airline tickets, while ancillary revenue consists of other services directly generated from ticket sales. Other revenue consists of sales that are not directly related to an airline ticket, e.g cargo and sales of third party products.

Other income amounts to NOK 90.8 million (2012: NOK 17.9 million) and include gains from sale of assets (note 9).
